Blacktopping Bliss – Just one year ago, we posted a need to resurface the Park's driveway in an effort to prevent our constant battle with crumbling, run-off and gravel tracked indoors. Today the project is complete and guests can enjoy a smooth ride into the Park. Our gratitude to friends of the Park that made this costly improvement possible is beyond measure.

Labyrinth of Gratitude – Carving and digging out a circle of grass 70 feet in diameter was just the beginning of this addition to the Park. It's taken a small village to envision and create this outdoor sanctuary with many hands deserving a shake of gratitude. With already enough stones in place, come walk it and live in the moment. Look for its completion sometime soon. We just need another 1000ish cleaned stones to fill in the gaps :)
